 - If Both assertion and reason are false.
- Assertion : In India, over the forty years between 1973-74 and 2013-14, while production in all the three sectors has increased, it has increased the most in the tertiary sector.

Reason : Tertiary sector is the only organized sector in the economy so the government spends a lot of money for creating jobs in tertiary sector.

There are several reasons for increased production in tertiary sector such as increase in demand for education, health, communication and transportation, development of agriculture sector, increase in level of income and development of information and technology sector.

3. Assertion : The development of agriculture and industry leads to the development of service sector.

Reason : As the primary and secondary sectors develop, the demand for transport, storage structures, banks, insurance, etc., increases.

Ans : (a) Both assertion and reason are true, and reason is the correct explanation of assertion.

As the primary and secondary sector develops the demand for the aforementioned tertiary activities increase. Not just the demand for mentioned services increases, but as individuals become better off, the demand for education, health services, professional training and communication also increase. Therefore, the development of primary and secondary sectors leads to the development of service or tertiary sector.

4. Assertion : An individual who manufactures flour from wheat is engaged in primary sector.

Reason : When some process of manufacturing is used the product is a part of secondary sector.

Ans : (d) Both assertion and reason are false.

An individual who manufactures flour from wheat is engaged in secondary sector as the products that are not manufactured directly from nature but require some manufacturing process are a part of secondary sector.

5. Assertion : GDP shows how big an economy is.

Reason : GDP is the value of all goods and services produced within the domestic territory of a country in a year.

Ans : (a) Both assertion and reason are true, and reason is the correct explanation of assertion.

GDP is the value of all final goods and services produced within a country. A higher GDP is indicative of higher production level and higher economic activity. Also, a higher GDP implies people of the country are earning more so it is indicative of the size of an economy.

6. Assertion : Rakesh is an educated and skilled worker who earns a high monthly salary as he is employed in a private bank in a city.

Reason : All service sectors in India are growing extremely well and each individual engaged in any kind of tertiary activity earns a high income.

Ans : (c) Assertion is true, but reason is false.

In India, not the entire service sector is growing equally well. Service sector in India employs many different kinds of people. At one end there are a limited number of services that employ highly skilled and educated workers. At the other end, there are a very large number of workers engaged in services such as small shopkeepers, repair persons, transport persons, etc. These people barely manage to earn a living and yet they perform these services because no alternative opportunities for work are available to them.

7. Assertion : Leela works five days a week, receives her income on the last day of each month and gets medical facilities from her firm.

Reason : Leela is working in organized sector.

Ans : (a) Both assertion and reason are true, and reason is the correct explanation of assertion.

The firms in organized sector are registered by the government and have to follow its rules and regulations which are given in various laws such as the Factories Act, Minimum Wages Act, Payment of Gratuity Act, Shops and Establishments Act etc

8. Assertion : Mohan is a shopkeeper who pays his taxes on time. He has employed two workers Rakesh and Raghu in his shop. He pays them well, however, none of the workers get any paid leaves in the year.

Reason : Rakesh and Raghu are employed in unorganized sector.

Ans : (a) Both assertion and reason are true, and reason is the correct explanation of assertion.

If Rakesh and Raghu were employed in organized sector, they would receive benefits such as paid leaves, medical insurance and pension schemes from the employer. Mohan is not following labour laws as he does not provide any paid leave to his employees in the year.

9. Assertion : When calculating the total value of goods and services produced in a country, the value of all goods and services at each stage of production should be calculated.

Reason : At each stage of production some value is added to a good or service, therefore, the value added at each stage of production is added to derive the total value of goods and services in an economy.

Ans : (d) Both assertion and reason are false.

When calculating the total value of goods and services produced in a country, the value of final goods and services is calculated. If we add the value of goods and services at each stage of production, we will get an inflated GDP as the same value would be included multiple times.

- 10. Assertion : There are several goods and services that the society needs; however, the private sector does not produce all of them.

Reason : Private sector is profit driven.

Ans : (a) Both assertion and reason are true, and reason is the correct explanation of assertion.

Some of the services such as defense require a lot of spending and do not provide any profit. Therefore, private sector does not invest in such activities. Also, certain services such as public transportation and irrigation facilities require massive spending which is beyond the capacity of private sector.

- 11. Assertion : In India, the primary sector is the largest employer.

Reason : The demand for services has increased enormously.

Ans : (b) Both assertion and reason are true, but reason is not the correct explanation of assertion.

The primary sector remains the largest employer in India because not enough jobs were created in the secondary and tertiary sectors. However, the demand for services has increased owing to increase in demand for education, health, communication and transportation, development of agriculture sector, increase in level of income and development of information and technology sector.
